

Live Five Card Draw Strip Poker

Friday, 16 May 2008

Since January, 2008 regulars of the Strip Poker Men's Club have been aware of the planned release of a revolutionary kind of fully interactive Strip Poker, the waiting is just about over as we move into beta testing, with the product expected to be live in just two weeks.

Many strip poker and strip game products have been released on the market of late, but nothing quite as involving as this game is promising to deliver, and more over, it's envisaged to be a hit amongst avid poker players as well.

This latest strip poker product to be released is "Five Card Draw" and follows strictly to the games rules, offering naughty couples and singles for that matter to play each other in a unique, interactive game of multi-player video strip poker. For those not familiar with the rules of Five Card Draw there is ample online help and screen prompts to get any novice up to speed on the game quickly.

The game however isn't just limited to couples wanting to get their partners or opponents naked, nor is there any obligation for couples to strip (it's just more fun that way), due to the games clever and flexible layout, it's possible for avid poker players to get in on the action and play as close to real life as possible with the live video facilities, imagine the advantages of actually being able to see your online opponent for a change!

The benefits of this unique variation of strip poker and five card draw doesn't end here, with numerous game features like player statistics, play money winnings statistics, private and group chat. Play as long as you like and as often as you like for a very low monthly membership fee. Now if that above isn't enough to get you hot under the collar, we have added another important ingredient to this new variation of strip poker … you will have the option to play live strip poker with one of our lovely hostesses, guaranteed to be the raunchiest game of strip poker you'll ever play, nothing like a sure bet!

Do you want to know how you can get your first months membership free?

We are encouraging both avid poker players and the inexperienced, new or existing members to become part of our beta testing team, nothing like road testing before launch day right?, there will be a maximum of only 20 members approved, so if you want to be part of the next biggest thing in poker, register with the Strip Poker Men's Club and email us to register your interest in part of the next generation in multi-player strip poker.
