

Adult Version of Popular Pac Man Game Released

Saturday, 05 July 2008

The quintessential classic arcade game; Pac Man was originally created by Namco in the early 1980s. The idea of the game was simple, the player guides the Pac Man through the maze with the purpose of eating all the dots in its path, the players opponent was several nasty ghosts that guarded the dots and chased the player with the purpose of capturing him.

When the player consumed all the dots in the maze, the player moved to the next level, if the player was captured by the ghosts a life was lost; when all lives were lost the game was over. If the player consumed some of the bonus fruit the player was able to chase the ghosts and eat them.

The adult variation of the Pac Man game (XXX Pac Man) is somewhat very similar, just the characters have changed having been replaced by parts of the human anatomy, but the overall objective is to eat all the dots and move to the next level before being captured by your opponents, in turn you can also eat the bonus fruit the occasionally appears and turn and chase your opponent to devour them.

The added bonus of the adult version of Pac Man is that with each level you complete an erotic picture of the lovely Crissy Moran is shown. Crissy Moran is our latest model to grace our website. Unlike the original version that grazed arcade halls throughout the country when first released, the latest adult's only XXX edition is available in flash at Strip Poker Men's Club adult game section.
